

Business.

Fees and Charges.

9 February 2024

It's not just business banking.

It's bigger than that.

It's your company thriving and your customers getting what they want, then coming back for more. It's jobs in the community and it's your future. We think that business banking is more than just balance sheets and budgets. Which is why we're doing more than ever to help every Australian business succeed.

About this document

The Business Fees and Charges booklet provides information about a range of business account services, the applicable fees and transaction account rebates.

This document should be read in conjunction with your account Standard Terms, Facility Details (or other disclosure documents) and Schedule of Interest Rates.

You should refer to your account Standard Terms or contact us to find out which services are available to your account.

The fees, charges and transaction account rebates set out in this booklet may change from time to time in accordance with the relevant account terms and conditions.

This booklet includes fees for:

- Business accounts
- Term Deposit accounts
- Business credit cards
- Business debit cards
- Business Lending
- Interest rate risk management
- Equipment finance
- International services

For information about personal account products and services available please contact us.

Section A – Transaction Account Rebates

What is a Transaction Account Rebate?

If you hold an eligible account as listed in Section B of this booklet we will give you a monthly fee allowance (a rebate) that we will use to reduce the eligible monthly Transaction Fees you incurred on your account.

The period for calculating your Transaction Account Rebate commences on the first day of each month and ends on the last day of each month.

Eligible Transaction Fees are accumulated during a calendar month and charged to your account on the first day of the following month. On the first day of each month we will subtract your Transaction Account Rebate from the eligible Transaction Fees charged to your account. Any unused rebate does not carry over to the following month.

Fees that are eligible for the rebate in this booklet are identified by '(R)'.
